

Deadline for Arts and Crafts Vendors and Children's Vendors has been extended. Final Deadline is March 15

(Greensboro, Ga. February 19, 2018) Potential Arts and Craft vendors have until March 15 to submit their vendor application for the 20th Annual Southland Jubilee on Saturday, April 21.

From 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., visitors from near and far will parade the streets of downtown Greensboro to participate in an array of family-friendly festivities including vendors with handmade arts and crafts, children's activities, agriculture and wildlife awareness exhibits, a classic car show, live entertainment from local performers and your favorite festival foods.

The festival prides itself on delivering the best and most exclusive vendors to downtown Greensboro each year and the final application deadline is quickly approaching. All Arts and Craft vendors must submit an application with pictures of their booth set-up and product to be considered.

Each year, you can expect to find unique vendors that will line Main Street with handmade art and crafts and your favorite festival snacks. Over 8,000 festival-goers shop for one-of-a-kind treasures that can only be found at Southland Jubilee. Past vendors have included handcrafted jewelry makers, candle makers, heritage demonstrators and many more.

Southland Jubilee encourages handmade arts and crafts, food, children's activities, heritage demonstrators and local nonprofit vendors to apply to be a part of Greensboro's biggest event of the year. Chosen vendors are exposed to thousands of people from across the state.

The final deadline for Arts and Craft and Children's vendor applications is March 15. All applications submitted by the deadline will be reviewed and accepted vendors will be notified. There are a limited number of vendors that will be invited to participate so be sure to get your application in early.

Vendor applications can be found by visiting www.southlandjubilee.com/vendors.

For more information regarding the festival, please visit www.southlandjubilee.com.

About Southland Jubilee:

Southland Jubilee is a day-long heritage arts festival that takes place in the heart of historic downtown Greensboro. Southland Jubilee is produced by the Greensboro Main Street Program and the Greensboro Downtown Development Authority with support from the City of Greensboro. Since its beginning in 1998, this annual spring festival has been downtown Greensboro's main community event and has developed the reputation across the region as a quality heritage arts and family festival. The festival's goal is to attract people to the town with the hope that they will return to the community.